

The Digital Studio

Playing the Quick Time Tutorial Movies

You need Quick time installed on your machine to play these movies.
If it is not installed you can download a free copy at:

<http://www.apple.com/quicktime/download/win.html>

Watch what you click. Apple wants to send you all sorts of info on their products and to sell you Quick Time Pro. If you do not want these “extras”, do not click the boxes saying that you do want these.

If you have QuickTime set to play your media on your computer these movies should pop open in Quick Time and play.

If not, and if they try to open in Windows Media Player (for example), then right click on the movie and open with QuickTime Player.

If you have questions send me an email. paul@RuezArt.net